Dear Sir/Ma'am,
Greetings from BMEMUN!

It is our distinct honor and privilege to invite you to the first session of the BME Model United Nations Conference here at the Budapest University of Technology and Economics, Budapest, Hungary, in this event which is co-hosted by the Budapest University of Technology and Economics, Heller Farkas Szakkollégium between the 5th of April through 7th of April, 2018.

BME Model United Nations Conference is a 3-day long simulation of the United Nations, which is expecting participation of more than 200 participants from Hungary and across the world who will experience the challenges of international negotiation and cooperation. Students shall assume the perspective of countries from around the world and debate about international issues in the following committees:

- UN: Security Council
- UN: General Assembly
- UN: International Court of Justice
- UN: High Commissioner of Refugees
- Economics and Social Council
- European Union

The BMEMUN 2018 Secretariat has worked tirelessly to afford delegates the most intriguing and competitive committee experience on the circuit; we are confident that the committee's collective diversity in topic and size will both fascinate and challenge each and every delegate.

At the heart of the Europe, Budapest serves as an ideal setting to discuss solution to real world problems promising a rewarding and innovative educational experience. Our capital is a city of outstanding geographical location with great traditions, wonderful historical places, as well as plenty of prestigious hotels within walking distance to the venue and to downtown Budapest.

Having said that, I encourage all interested delegates, faculty advisors, and friends to peruse our website; www.mun.bme.hu, for more information.

I also welcome any ideas, questions, or comments you may wish to share with me.

Best wishes,
Anirudh Bodkhe
